

HAD AN AFFINITY, SO KILLED WIFE AND SHOT HIMSELF

Dying Man Confessed He Chloroformed His Victim
Before Using Pistol.

MELWAUKIE, Wis., March 20.—George Willoughby, manager of the Jewett & Sherman Company, coffee and spice mill, early today shot and killed his wife at their home on Prospect avenue. Willoughby then fired two shots into his breast over the heart and is not expected to recover. Willoughby confessed to the police that he had committed the murder because he was infatuated with another woman, whom he had been supporting for four years.

Mr. and Mrs. Willoughby last evening attended a social at the Park Place Methodist Episcopal Church, where both were prominent workers. Mr. Willoughby also taught a Sunday school class. When they returned home a quarrel followed, after which both retired. While Mrs. Willoughby was asleep the husband chloroformed her and then shot her behind the left ear, causing instant death. He then shot himself. Willoughby at first denied he had shot his wife, but later admitted he had done so.

"I married my wife twenty years ago," said he. "I did not love her, but married her mostly out of sympathy, she being a poor woman. We were married at Ludington, Mich., and soon after came to this city. Our life has never been a happy one. We frequently quarreled. Mrs. Willoughby was insanely jealous of me. Matters went on this way for years.

"Four years ago while I was on my way to New York I met a woman on the train. Our acquaintance ripened into love. Then for the first time I realized I had met a woman I really loved.

"This woman also was living an unhappy life. Her husband was cruel to her, and soon after I met her he deserted her and her two small children. I then began to support her. We became intimate and have been so for several years. Two years ago she obtained a divorce, and since that time I have been providing for her and her children. She is now living in Chicago. "My domestic affairs did not improve and a long time ago I decided that I would end it all. How to do it was what bothered me, and for many months I have been planning a way. I began to collect chloroform. I bought it in small lots and began to keep it until I had a bottle of five drams. This I saved until I might decide to carry out my plans.

"I decided to end it all this morning. After my wife had fallen asleep I obtained the chloroform and then I shot her. I then fired two shots into my breast, intending to shoot myself in the heart, but I failed. I did not have any more cartridges, so I decided to slide the revolver. That is the whole story."

Willoughby is fifty years old. His wife was thirty years his junior and was a native of Michigan.

KEEP EGGS FRESH BY COATING THEM WITH LARD.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Cover a fresh egg with a thin coating of lard and it will keep perfectly good for an indefinite period, according to a report of a new method for preserving eggs made to the State Department by Consul Murphy at Bordeaux. The discovery is of Italian origin, and is regarded as important, as it is claimed that one hundred eggs can thus be preserved with four cents' worth of lard and an hour of time.

LIANCASTER, Pa., March 20.—The new method of preserving eggs with lard, reported to the State Department by Consul Murphy at Bordeaux, as set forth in a despatch from Washington, is, figuratively speaking, as "old as the hills" in Lancaster County, and probably in all the German districts of Pennsylvania. It has been in common use here for more than a hundred years.

ACCUSE POLICEMAN OF BRUTAL ASSAULT

Kelly Beat Sailor Found Helplessly Drunk, Two Men
Tell Court.

Sick and sore and hardly able to stand, James Kelly, sailor of the United States Army transport Hancock, was arraigned in Central Police Court today on a charge of intoxication. In addition to his bodily pain Kelly suffered mental anguish because of the fact that he had over-stayed his shore leave.

Policeman Thomas Kelly, of the Elizabeth street station, arraigned Kelly. He said that the sailor was not only drunk, but that he put up a vicious fight when placed under arrest. As for Kelly, he said he didn't remember anything after his last drink in a Bowery saloon.

It looked bad for the able seaman when two well-dressed men bobbed up and ventured to suggest that they knew something about the case. They were C. N. Cleland, of No. 211 East Eighth street, and W. A. Bradley, of No. 33 Washington place.

Cleland and Bradley told Magistrate Barrow that Kelly was lying helpless at the corner of Bowery and Bway street when Kelly walked up to him and beat him most brutally. The policemen, they said, were careful to hit the sailor where the marks would show. Kelly howled with agony, but was too drunk to make resistance. The two witnesses agreed that the policeman's assault was unprovoked for and most brutal.

On the strength of their story Magistrate Barrow discharged Kelly. A record of the incident of the sailor was sent to Police Commissioner Bingham.

Men's, Youths' & Boys' Clothing at Half Price

A tremendous cut in clothing prices, resulting from the great number of cancellations of numerous large retail clothing and department stores all over the East, West and South. Thousands of dollars' worth of choice custom tailored clothing thrown back on the wholesale clothiers' hands. It retail clothing and department stores could correctly judge financial and trade conditions six months ahead bargains such as we will sell Saturday and all of next week would be unknown. But they or nobody else can do it. Six months is a long time to place an order ahead and they make mistakes—"Bite off more than they can chew." The mistakes they make frequently prove of incalculable profit to the public, as in this instance, when

are to be sold to consumers at less than cost of production. These manufacturers don't want goods back on their counters now—and in their eagerness to sell turned to us. We said, HALF PRICE! NO! NO! NO! We'll lose too much money, they said. That was two weeks ago. Last Monday they simplified their willingness to take their losses, and to-day we have at our disposal

$100,000 WORTH OF
Spring Suits, Top Coats, Cravenettes & Trousers
For Men, Youths and Boys Which We Shall Sell at HALF PRICE

As large as our store is it will not hold ONE-HALF of the stocks offered to us. Yet this store will be the outlet through which the stocks will pass from day to day to the consumers. It will be a sort of clearing house, which will enable the buyers to save

Fifty Cents on the Dollar

The savings are simply wonderful. It is necessary to see the clothing, try it on and note its excellence, then the value will become apparent and no printed argument will be needed.

It is the most wonderful clothing opportunity presented in New York for years, and one that cannot be repeated this season.
